- (4) In cases in which members of the Supervisory Board resign prior to expiry of their functional term from the Supervisory Board, an election to appoint their replacements is to be held at the next Annual General Meeting and not before. Such an election is, however, to be held within six weeks via an Extraordinary General Meeting in cases in which the number of the elected members of the Supervisory Board drops below four. Supervisory Board Meetings – Agenda, Convocation

- (1) The Supervisory Board is to resolve its motions at its meetings, which are held on a regular basis. The Board is to hold a meeting as often as required in the interests of the Company. This is to be at least on a quarterly basis. This once-a-quarter meeting of the Supervisory Board is to take the form of a physical convening of the members of the Board. The Supervisory Board is authorised, in addition, to convene meetings taking the form of either in-person gatherings of the members or of video conferences meeting the qualifications of Section 12 Para 6.
- (2) Notification of the convocation of meetings of the Supervisory Board is to be rendered in writing, by fax or E-mail by the Chairman of the Supervisory Board. This is to be at the latest fourteen days prior to the meeting. The day of dispatching is the determinant of this satisfaction of term. In urgent cases, the chairman may shorten this period. She or he is authorised to convene the meeting verbally or on the telephone. This is to occur by no later than three days prior to the meeting.
- (3) In cases in which a request for convocation of the Supervisory Board is submitted by at least two members of the Supervisory Board or by the Management Board, and in which this request specifies the purpose and the reasons for such, and in which this request is not acceded to by the chairman of the Supervisory Board within fourteen days, then the applicants are entitled to convene a Supervisory Board meeting. This notification is to include a statement of the case of affairs.
- (4) The agenda is determined by the chairman. She or he is to consider the motions submitted by the Management Board and by the members of the Supervisory Board. The required written materials required for the individual topics on the agenda are to be made available on a timely basis. These materials are to be textual in nature
- (5) The chairman determines the forms of the meeting, of the reaching of resolutions passed outside of it, of the voting on such and of the procedure of counting such votes submitted.

- (6) The members of the Management Board participate in all meetings of the Supervisory Board and their committees unless otherwise decided by the chairman of the meeting. Persons not forming part of the Supervisory or Management Boards are not authorised to take part in the meetings of the Supervisory Board and of its committees. Experts and other persons capable of providing information can be called upon to participate in deliberations on individual topics, should the chairman so consent to such. Supervisory Board members that are not such of a committee are entitled to attend the meetings of such only in cases in which the chairman consents to their doing such.
- (7) A member of the Supervisory Board is entitled to commission another with her or his representation at an individual meeting. This is to be rendered in writing. A member so represented is not be counted when determining the existence of a quorum at the meeting. The right to chair a meet cannot be assigned to another. A member of the supervisory board who is not capable of attending a meeting of it or of one of its committees is entitled to submit in writing her or his vote on individual topics on the agenda. This submission is to be undertaken by another member of the body in question.

Supervisory Board – Quorum, Procedure

- (1) The Supervisory Board is deemed to have a quorum in cases in which all members of the Supervisory Board have been properly invited to attend its meeting, and in which at least five of the members – with this including the chairman or one of her or his deputies - is personally present. The Supervisory Board is entitled to resolve a matter that is up for deliberation and that is not a topic on the agenda only in such cases in which all members of the supervisory board are present or have designated replacements, and in which no member disagrees with the resolution of the matter.
- (2) Simple majorities of votes rendered are required to pass resolutions. An abstention is not considered to be a vote. Ties – with this also applying to elections – require the chairman's determination of the matter; in the case of her or his not being able to attend, this vote (right of decisive vote) is held by her or his deputy and by the chairman of a committee.

- (3) The chairman is also entitled to stipulate that the declarations of individual members who are not present at the meetings can be rendered in writing, on the telephone or in a comparable form (with these especially including faxes and E-mails) in cases of the Supervisory Board's or its committees' voting on resolutions. No Supervisory Board member is entitled to object to such a ruling by the chairman.
- (4) Resolutions can also be reached by voting in writing or textually (via fax or E-mail). This does not require the convening of the Supervisory Board to a meeting. This is provided that the chairman, or in cases of her or his not being able to do such – her or his deputy – orders such a resolution, and that no member of the Supervisory Board expressly lodges with the chairman objections to this procedure. This is to be rendered textually (in forms of a fax or an E-mail) and within the term to be determined by the chairman. A resolution is deemed to have been passed in cases in which all members of the Supervisory Board have been invited textually (via fax or E-mail) to submit their votes, and in which five members – with these including the chairman or her or his deputy – have rendered these votes within the term to be determined by the chairman. The chairman is entitled to determine the technical format of votes rendered by E-mail. The stipulations of paragraph 2 correspondingly apply. The deputizing of another member of the Supervisory Board is not permissible in cases of voting in writing or in textual form.
- (5) Resolutions can also be passed by voting conducted in teleconferences, Internet conferences or (simple) video conferences. This does not require the Supervisory Board to be convened for a meeting. This comes into being in such cases in which the chairman – or, in cases of her or his not being able to do such, her or his deputy – orders the deciding upon such a resolution, and in which no member of the Supervisory Board expressly lodges with the chairman an objection to such in textual form (fax or E-mail). A resolution is deemed to have been passed in cases in which all members of the Supervisory Board have been invited textually (via fax or E-mail) to submit their votes, and in which five members – with these including the chairman or her or his deputy – have rendered these votes within the term to be determined by the chairman. The chairman is entitled to determine the technical format of votes rendered by E-mail. The stipulations of paragraph 2 correspondingly apply. The deputizing of another member of the Supervisory Board is not permissible.

- (6) Meetings of the Supervisory Board can be held via electronic communication. This precludes the need for the members of the Supervisory Board to convene in person. The preconditions for such have to be fulfilled. These are: (i) immediate communication among the participants through simultaneous and universal visibility and audibility; (ii) the option of third parties' participation; (iii) the ensuring of confidentiality; (iv) the attainment of an equal level of information among all participants; (v) the guaranteeing of the authenticity of the discussion. A qualified video conference that satisfies the above conditions is to be regarded as a meeting (video conference meeting), as defined in Section 94 Para 3 AktG. The chairman – or, in cases of her or his not being able to attend – her or his deputy is entitled to convene a video conference meeting, provided that the technical requirements are available to all members of the Supervisory Board to the extent described above, and that the object of consultation and resolution does not compulsorily require immediate, in-person contact among all participants. The chairman is especially entitled to avail herself or himself of the option of convening a video conference in cases in which the urgency impelling the calling such a meeting, the frequency of such callings, or the fact that members of the Supervisory Board are not at the place of convening make the convening of a video conference meeting appear appropriate and a better serving of the interests of the Company than the gathering in person of all members. The stipulations in Section 11 Paras 1-7 and Section 12 Paras 1-3 correspondingly apply.
- (7) Minutes are to be made of the Supervisory Board's meeting. These are to delineate the essentials of the course of discussion and of the resolutions passed. The minutes are to be signed by the chairman of the meeting. Resolutions passed by the Supervisory Board outside of its meetings are to be confirmed in writing by the chairman.
